Johnny and Palma’s relationship

[July 27, 2022]

Johnny asked out Palma if she wanted to go out with him, she accepted it since her work shift was over. While Johnny and Palma are walking together and talking about their lives, he wondered if she wanted to show her where he usually goes.

Palma: So this is where you usually go if you’re feeling stressed out?
Johnny: Pretty much, yeah. I mean, who doesn’t like going here once to clear your head if your day turns out to be shitty?
Palma: I see. I know how it feels to have a shitty day once in a while. Hell, sometimes I even have crappy days myself while I work as a bartender. Having to deal with cheapskates and asshole customers that makes my work experience miserable. The point I’m trying to make here is: No matter how crap your life is at the moment, I’ll still be around to solve your problems.

Johnny: Thanks, Palma. I owe you one.
Palma: I know this might sound personal to you, Johnny. But I was wondering for a while now about how you got that scar across your right eye, if you don’t mind asking?
